

CHICAGO HEALTH OFFICIALS APPROVE ANTIOCH PLANT

Local Producers Are to Receive Chicago Prices For Milk.

A clean bill of health and an unqualified O. K. of the sanitary conditions at the Antioch Farmers Dairy plant and the announcement that producers are to receive Chicago market prices for their product were the latest developments in connection with the re-opening of the Antioch plant Jan. 1, after having been closed for more than eighteen months.

Producers are responding to the opportunity offered for a convenient home market and the milk is being taken to Chicago daily in a tank truck by Frank Hahn of Rock Lake.

A satisfactory and dependable market has been procured for all milk the local plant can ship.

Operations at the plant were slightly handicapped the first few days owing to the fact that some of the machinery had failed to arrive and some of the equipment had been stolen from the plant last summer. However, these small inconveniences were soon overcome and the plant is operating today at a point of high efficiency.

NEW CHEVROLET MODELS ARE HERE

Wetzel Chevrolet Sales Has Full Line of New Models on Display.

Wildfire enthusiasm kindled thru-out the country last week when the new Chevrolet line for 1928 went on display took particular account of the many mechanical innovations embodied in the new car.

Hundreds who viewed the new models at the Wetzel Chevrolet sales rooms noted that the wheelbase was increased and bodies made roomier and more beautiful, also that the mechanical features had been developed to a measure heretofore unknown in the low price class.

Outstanding developments in the engine and chassis that received widespread endorsement were the increased speed and power of the new car, easier steering, four wheel brakes of new design, shock absorber springs marking an advanced trend toward riding comfort, and smoother engine performance.

The four-wheel brakes are of non-locking design—the product of Chevrolet laboratories plus the facilities of General Motors laboratories and proving grounds. Front brakes are two-shoe energized internally, while the rear brakes are the energized external, self wrapping type. Front and rear brakes have been proportioned to prevent slide drag or pull. Each brake has an individual adjustment at the wheels, while "stops" have been provided to make the adjustment process especially easy. Easy initial pedal application throws the front brakes into action. Further application throws front brakes harder into action and also brings the rear brakes into full play, so that it is possible to slide the rear wheels on dry pavement by using full pressure but not the front wheels.

The effect of this, according to Chevrolet engineers is to get uniform wear on the brake lining.

The springs also are of extraordinary interest. Realizing that all uncomfortable spring action is the result of rebound after striking a bump Chevrolet engineers set about to increase the friction of the springs and thus check the rebound.

Greater ease of steering was made possible by adopting a ball bearing worm and gear steering mechanism, including ball bearings in the steering knuckles, and by increasing the steering ratio from 8. to 9.5 to 1. This four inch increase in wheelbase contributes greatly to the riding quality of the car, with less pitching and better road holding ability.

The front axle has been enlarged and strengthened to accommodate the new brake attachment. A fan shroud has been added for more efficient cooling, and a host of other details have gone into making the Chevrolet for the best performing, most efficient and dependable mechanical car built by the company. Wetzel is a very busy man displaying and demonstrating the latest achievement of the Chevrolet engineers.

Two Hard Games on Schedule for Basketball Squad This Week

Antioch high school basketball players will step into what is hoped to be the toughest game of the season when they face the strong Warren township high school team on the Gurnee floor Friday night.

Warren has a strong team this year and they now have two conference victories to their credit having defeated Palatine by a big score and Wauconda by 8 points on Wauconda's floor.

Antioch started out strong when they defeated Leyden 17 to 10, but the next week they were defeated by the fast Arlington Heights team, 15 to 13. In the Heights game the team was playing a good defensive game but the offense could not connect with the ring for enough points to win.

During the holidays the high school team played one game and they came through with a hard fought victory over the Alumni by a score of 25 to 20. It was a good game and the Alumni team deserves a lot of credit for playing the game that they did with very little practice together. Simpson, Nixon and Hook played the best for the Alumni while Spicer and Steininger looked the best for the high school.

At Leyden Saturday After traveling to Gurnee on Friday the team takes a long trip on Saturday, to Franklin Park where they look up with Leyden for the second time this year.

Antioch defeated Leyden in the first battle but they will have a much harder game this time as Leyden is improving fast and they showed it by defeating Libertyville, 19 to 15, last week.

The second team will go on both of these trips and play a telltale game. The seconds have a victory over Leyden's seconds to their credit but they were defeated by Arlington's seconds in a low scoring battle, the final score being 6 to 4.

Lands on Head From Auto, but Walks Away

Porterville, N. Y.—Falling six feet from an auto, landing on the pavement on his head, only to get up and walk toward the sidewalk with a slight cut on his lip was the experience of Milburn Brook, two-year-old son of Policeman R. P. H. Brook, when the child was motored to town, the boy standing up in the front seat. When the car swung around a corner the child pitched out.

GETS GERBRACHT TRIAL OPINION

Attorney Elmer V. Orvis, counsel for Rose Gerbracht in the famous case against the County of Lake involving title to 160 acres of land which this week was remanded to the Circuit court for a new hearing has received a copy of the opinion handed down by the Supreme court. The case is to again come up for hearing in the Circuit court and Attorney Orvis claims after reading the opinion he can see his way clear to entering proof in this case in such a manner that the higher court will uphold a favorable decision of the local court.

The property in question, is located in the Fox Lake region and includes part of the beautiful Lotus beds. The case has been on the court docket for 14 years, having been instituted in 1914. Three years ago the late Circuit Judge Earl Reynolds ruled that the land belonged to Rose Gerbracht and that the county had no legal claim to it.

The county claims the property on the ground that the U. S. ceded the land to the State of Illinois in 1859 and that the state ceded it to the county in 1854.

Harry Regan Taken To Great Lakes Hospital

Harry D. Regan, world war veteran, was taken Saturday to Great Lakes hospital for treatment. Mr. Regan has been ill for several weeks, his trouble resulting from having had his feet frozen while in Russia with the American expeditionary forces in 1918-19. He was a machine gunner with the only American regiment in Russia, 338th regiment, Comapny E, who had their headquarters at Archangel in northern Russia near the Arctic circle.

Mr. Regan, with his company, had participated in eight battles after the signing of the armistice before the news of peace had reached the northern country. Many of Regan's company were killed in action during battles fought after the armistice.

Eyesight of Birds

Scientific experiments made in Great Britain have revealed the fact that a thrush sees a worm squirming in grass 100 yards away; that a swallow can see gnats 40 yards away; and that a sparrow detects a crumb or pea at a distance of 50 yards; that the vision of vultures and eagles is still keener.

ARE LIVING IN "TELE-AGE," SAYS JOHN M. FINLEY

Educator and Editor Pays Tribute to Achievements of Modern Science.

John M. Finley former college president and now Associate Editor of the New York Times terms this the tele-age.

Referring to the fact that many marvels of scientific progress have taken place within the span of the present generation, he remarks that it was only a few years ago that he had the honor of bestowing a medal upon the man whose voice was first heard by telephone, Alexander Graham Bell, and that since then he himself has talked over the telephone a few yards from the ruins of Babel, on the edge of the desert, on whose farther rim once rose the Tower of Babel. He refers also to his having had the honor of conferring at a university convocation, an honorary degree upon Thomas A. Edison, who at the time was some 200 miles away; that the inventor of the telegraph has died since he was born; that he sat between Peary and Amundsen, the discoverers of the two poles; that he has sat with the Wright Brothers at a dinner in their honor and that he has lived under the same skyscraper roof with the man who made it possible that thousands in New York and San Francisco should hear the President's voice at the same time.

It was General John J. Carty, now Vice-President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, to whom Dr. Finley refers as "the same quiet wizard whom he has seen preside at a meeting at which a motion was made by a man seated in New York, seconded by a man in San Francisco, amended by the motion of a man in Boston, seconded by a man in Atlanta, and unanimously adopted by 11,000 men seated in remote parts of a hall which he, Dr. Finley, has called "Carty's Hall" but which is none else than the United States of America.

The men who are making this tele-age are aptly termed by Dr. Finley as tele-heroes. In particular, he calls attention to the fact that the tele-age began in America, and that it has been made possible, in large measure, by men known personally, to the present generation. We have, accordingly, become a tele-people, the most highly mobile people in the world, with more power at our elbow per person than any other people. And, suggests Dr. Finley, more wonders are still to come.

ANTIOCH T. H. SCHOOL RECEIVES SHIPMENT OF SHROPSHIRE SHEEP

Much Pure Bred Livestock Being Introduced By Ag. Department.

A shipment of five pure bred Shropshire ewes was received last week by the Agriculture Department of the Antioch High School for distribution among the boys who have taken sheep projects for their home work.

The sheep, which were purchased from the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin, are the third consignment of pure bred Shropshires into this territory within the past four years. At present, according to C. L. Kutt, teacher of Vocational Agriculture, there are twenty-four pure bred Shropshires in this vicinity; and the foundation is laid for a rapid development of the breed.

It is the hope of all those interested in this breed of sheep that in the very near future an association for the purpose of improving the animals and disposing of any surplus will be organized.

This is another of the numerous long time projects now under the motherly care of The Antioch Township High School.

Besides the sheep, two other animals were introduced into this community. A pure bred Guernsey calf was recently bought by Lloyd Atwell, a Sophomore of the school. A pure bred Hampshire pig was bought by Harold Sheen last week. Boys buying the sheep are Norman Barthel, Ward Edwards, and Roy McNeil.

Poultry Squibs

Do not crowd the growing birds. Give them a room for development. Crooked legs and other physical deformities often occur in crowded flocks.

The birds should be kept separated from pullets until the breeding season begins.

Do not provide perches with sharp bumps and other all can often be traced to this cause.

Do not elevate the roosts too high. Raising of the birds' feet in slight rubbing from the perches causes serious trouble.

Soft-Shell Eggs

Soft-shelled eggs may be prevented first by seeing the hens get plenty of minerals. This is accomplished by having both oyster shells and cracked rock known as hens' grit in front of the hens constantly and by feeding a dry mash which contains about 20 per cent beef scrap. In case you are using milk in place of beef scrap, add about 5 per cent of what the packers call raw bone meal. This will keep indefinitely if kept covered up.

POULTRY

POULTRY GOOD AS A FARM SIDELINE

There are many ways in which a farmer can get started into the poultry business, and now is the time to begin to plan for a spring start, thinks D. H. Hall, extension poultry husbandman, who makes the following suggestions:

If you have a few pure-bred chickens, your flock, you mate these pure bred hatch from them. This may seem a little slow for a start, but it pays to start slow in the poultry game, the end of the year you can have pure-bred stock by selling all the eggs of the place.

Another way to get started in the pure-bred business is to sell fifteen or twenty mongrels and use this money to buy pure-bred poultry. You may be able to purchase but three hens and a rooster as a result of your mongrel sale. It will be one of the best moves you have ever made.

After purchasing pure-bred stock, hatch only eggs from this purchase stock. This way you probably the best as you begin to get a cash return from your pure-bred stock at once.

You can also get started by purchasing pure-bred eggs. You can finance the purchasing of these eggs by selling a few mongrels. Pure-bred eggs from a reliable breeder will cost you more than a mongrel egg, but they will pay for themselves in better poultry.

Another way to get started in the poultry business is by the purchasing of baby chicks. This way is probably better than buying eggs, as you get run the chance of obtaining a hatch. Baby chicks can be bought from any reliable hatchery about as cheap as you can hatch them yourself.

Five Illinois Towns Plan Electric Corn Testing Equipment

Tolono, Ill.—An electrically operated seed corn tester has given such excellent results in its operation here that five additional Illinois communities—Sidney, St. Joseph, Ludlow, Bondville and Fisher—are planning to duplicate the equipment for the germination test. The equipment was designed in connection with experiments in the use of electricity in agriculture being conducted on ten farms in this vicinity by the University of Illinois.

An abandoned ice plant is being used as the laboratory. The main part of the building is occupied by racks ten feet high which are cross-strung with wire each three inches. One ear of corn is dried in each square without contact. In the testing room are two germinating racks, each holding ten 30 by 40 inch wire trays, on each of which is spread a mixture of limestone and sawdust, covered with muslin. After the kernels are placed on the trays, the trays are moistened, and the room closed and heated to 80 degrees by eight 220-volt electric heating units under moisture pans. A maximum humidity is thus assured for the seven-day period of germination. An electric humidity graph is attached which gives a constant record of the temperature and humidity.

The equipment has proved efficient, there being little spoilage and waste of corn.

Toads from Tadpoles

Newspapers To Have "Week" of Their Own

Newspapers, after having supported "weeks" of many kinds for many groups of people and industries, are to have a "week" of their own.

The newspaper section of the International Advertising Association has designated the week of January 16, as "Newspaper Week", when editors, advertising men and others who make the papers possible will tell public about their jobs—the "hows" and "whys" of their work.

Plans call for the use of all forms of publicity mediums, including news stories, advertisements, addresses and the radio.

RADIO'S MILESTONES OF 1927 PROGRESS

Many Years Will Be Required to Crystallize Momentous Developments of the Past Twelve Months.

By DAVID SARNOFF
Vice-President and General Manager,
Radio Corporation of America.

If progress means growth in the right direction, radio passed new milestones in 1927. Many years will be required to crystallize some of the developments of the past twelve months.

Of immediate interest to the millions of radio listeners in the United States is the marked advance made in the technique of radio reception during the year. The mystery of music and speech carried through waves in the air, rather than the technical progress of the art, was responsible for the overwhelming public interest in radio during the early days.

Remarkable strides have been made in 1927 in developing and producing receivers using lighting current as the source of power.

Ideal Moderate-Priced Receiver
The first fruits of this extensive research and engineering activity came two years ago with the development of the Radiola Speaker 104 in combination with certain types of Radiola receiving sets as a completely a. c. operated radio receiver. But simplification was necessary to achieve the ideal of a moderate-priced receiver which would operate directly off the lighting circuit.

Radio Broadcasting
Nowhere are industry and service so closely welded together as in radio; broadcasting is an essential factor in the progress of radio. No truly permanent service of radio broadcasting could be built upon the individual efforts of hundreds of stations scattered in various parts of the country.

The two greatest contributions to the progress of mass communication in 1927 were the record of the National Broadcasting Company in the field of nationwide service, and the passage of the Federal Radio Act which made order out of chaos in broadcast transmission.

Trans-Oceanic Wireless Communication
Nor has the progress of radio been limited to broadcast transmission and broadcast reception. The invisible network of world-wide wireless communication, of which the United States is the center, has been further enlarged. In addition to the telegraphic service by wireless now maintained by the Radio Corporation with England, France, Germany, Italy, Holland, Poland, Sweden, Argentina, Brazil, Hawaii, Japan, Dutch East Indies and French Indo-China, our area of wireless communication was enlarged, in 1927, by the establishment of direct radio circuits from the United States to the Philippines, and to Porto Rico

Facsimile Transmission

Facsimile transmission by wireless in 1927 brought clearly into view the great possibilities of an entirely new system of telegraphic communications. News pictures, portrait photographs, and documents have been transmitted by radio across the ocean in facsimile form. Under special conditions photographs have been transmitted by our engineers in two minutes with satisfactory detail, and much greater speeds are forecast by laboratory developments now in progress.

Marine Radio

In ship-to-shore communication likewise, radio made definite progress in 1927. Shipboard stations were completely modernized during the year by the installation of continuous wave tube transmitters. Direction finders again proved their aid to navigation, and some marine coastal stations further increased their range and efficiency.

Trans-Oceanic Telephone

Experiments during the year in which the Radio Corporation co-operated, culminated in the establishment of a trans-Atlantic commercial service of radio telephony by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. For the first time in history the human voice spanned an entire ocean in two-way telephone conversation.

Television

The year 1927 witnessed the first complete demonstration of television, both by wire and by wireless. It was the great scientific achievement of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to allow the world for the first time the recognizable features of a subject hundreds of miles distant in the flashing movements of life, and not only that, but to synchronize sight and sound by transmitting both the image of the subject and the sound of the voice simultaneously.

Taking developments broadly, the year 1927 not only marks a definite step towards stabilization in the radio industry, but new standards of progress for the radio art, whose future is brighter than ever.

Akin to Divinity

As to be perfectly just is an attribute of the divine nature, to be so is the utmost of our abilities is the only glory of man.—Addison.

REAL "TARZAN" CARED FOR BY BABOON MOTHER

Lad, Kidnaped by Animals, Still Shows Symptoms of Wild State.

London.—"Tarzan" has come true, and Kipling's "Mowgli," who was reared by the wolves, is not so far fetched as adult readers may suppose, according to the report which has just reached here from Johannesburg, South Africa, of the discovery of a "baboon boy."

According to the story, a South African native baby was kidnaped from his kernal by baboons, was cared for by a baboon foster mother for years and spent a large period of his boyhood roaming the wilds with the troop.

About 25 years ago two troopers of the old Cape police were making their way through wild country in South-east Cape Province when they came on a troop of baboons. They fired at them and the troop scampered away. But one monkey who tailed off at the rear seemed to be wounded. The troopers galloped up to the faggard and, to their astonishment, found instead of a baboon a well-grown native boy hopping along on all-fours after his departed associates.

Bit Captors.

When they came to close quarters with the boy he scratched and bit them fiercely and put up a considerable fight before he was overpowered. His naked state made it exceedingly difficult for the troopers to get a firm grip on him.

All efforts to trace the captive's parentage proved futile. He was, therefore, handed over to the authorities of a mental hospital in a neighboring town, where he was kept for a year and given the name of Lucas. The boy was unable to talk and showed a great dislike for orthodox human food. Raw meat and prickly pears proved to be his favorite diet and his appetite was enormous. Though mischievous, he turned out not to be vicious and was soon won to those about him by kindness. But it was found extremely difficult to make him walk upright.

Attempts were made to place the boy with some one who would undertake to train him. Finally, G. H. Smith, the owner of a large farm in the Bathurst district of the Cape Province, heard of Lucas and so, some 24 years ago, the "baboon boy" came under the care of his present employer.

Becomes Docile Boy.

Mr. Smith at first was worried about the task he had undertaken, but Lucas had by this time lost his original dislike of human beings and was a comparatively docile native boy, though still possessing odd, monkey-like mannerisms.

Lucas can only speak English, as his duties bring him into contact mostly with only his master and mistress. He is very fond of children, and his special delight is to take care of his employer's little ones. Today Mr. Smith would not exchange his one-time doubtful bargain for any other two native workers.

Lucas does not mind talking about what he remembers of his boyhood with the baboons. He tells how one big baboon used to take him in its arms on cold nights and put him warmly to sleep in the undergrowth of the bush, and of how edible crickets were collected from the ground to appease the pangs of ever-present hunger. On request, Lucas will even go down on all fours and give an exhibition of how he marched with the baboon herd.

Skim milk Fattening—A Coming Farm Industry

FATTEN POULTRY WITH SKIMMILK

Better Quality of Fowls Brings Farmers 5 to 7 Cents Premium.

With skimmilk it is possible to turn a dollar's worth of grain into three dollars' worth of poultry meat in two weeks, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Heretofore, cattle, hogs and sheep have been profitably fattened on farms before shipped to market. Now comes the idea of fattening poultry on the farm with skimmilk. Not only do farmers using skimmilk to fatten poultry get added weight on their springers and mature fowls, but in many cases they are also getting premiums of 5 to 7 cents per pound above the average price for the better market quality of the fowls when they are sold. However, even though some of these farmers do not get the extra premiums for the milk-fattening, due to local market conditions, they find that it pays to fatten their poultry merely for the added weight.

Thin, poorly fleshed poultry can be confined in a fattening pen, such as shown in illustration No. 1 above, fed twice a day on a mixture of 20 lbs. yellow corn meal, 10 lbs. of flour middlinge, 10 lbs. ground oats and 80 lbs. (about 8.5 gallons) skimmilk that has been allowed to stand about 24 hours before feeding, for a period of 10 days to two weeks, then marketed properly fattened at a profit of 25% to 50% more than the old way of selling them in thin condition as they come off the farm range.

The surplus young stock and healthy but poor laying cull hens should be confined in the milk-fattening pen and starved 24 hours before the first feed. Troughs of the above feed mixture should be filled and placed before the birds twice a day, for a half hour, morning and night. No water is necessary. A considerable number of dairy farmers with a large, steady supply of skimmilk, after they have succeeded with pen fattening, are finding it to their advantage to build and use feeding batteries, like the ones shown in illustration No. 2 above, to fatten poultry purchased in thin condition from their neighbors.

Gradually the American consuming public is becoming acquainted with milk-fattened, thick-fleshed market poultry and the demand is rapidly increasing. In England, France and other European countries, the finishing of poultry for the table is a fine art. Over there, crumming machines like the one shown above are used to "force feed" poultry and geese into excessively fat stock. Americans prefer "short fed" poultry that has been "fleshed-up" through natural feeding on skimmilk batter and pay premium prices for such poultry wherever they are offered on the market.

Let's make a New Year's resolution to boost Antioch, never knock it—pull together and help make it a bigger and better town in 1928.

Every man we meet thinks he is the busiest man in town. We're no exception. You just ought to see how hard we work.

Yesterday we saw a man in shirt sleeves and wearing overshoes. But is that any worse than a fur coat and silk shod ankles?

In. How much do you want?

Every time we take a trip Antioch looks better to us when we get home.

You will soon save enough on your coal bill to pay for storm doors and windows. They keep the cold out and the heat in. We have 'em.

Why hate a person who disagrees with you? He may be right.

For that little repair job, you can always find what lumber you need here. And you get the same courtesy with a little order as you do with a big one.

Of course we

Kenosha Girl Is Bride of Albert Christensen

A very pretty wedding ceremony took place at the Lutheran parsonage in Kenosha on Wednesday, Dec. 28, when Margaret Doerflinger and Albert Christensen were united in marriage by the Rev. Milford.

The bride was beautifully dressed in a gown of coral color transparent velvet and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Their only attendants were Camilla Christensen, sister of the groom, and Charles Doerflinger, brother of the bride.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Doerflinger of Kenosha. The groom is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Swan Christensen, of Antioch. The groom is very well known here, having lived in this vicinity most of his life until three years ago when he went to Kenosha and was employed as a carpenter. The bride has lived in Kenosha all her life.

After the ceremony the bride and groom left on a short honeymoon through the south. They will make their home in Kenosha where the groom has a home.

Seated on Dynamite, Blows Himself Up

Logan, W. Va.—Seating himself upon a box of dynamite, Andy Andrews touched a match to the explosives and blew himself to bits at the Bracholm mine of the Amherst Coal company.

The explosion wrecked four rooms of the mine clubhouse, where Andrews lived. His roommate, entering the room as Andrews lighted the match, narrowly escaped death after an effort to prevent the suicide.

Despondency over the loss of $500, stolen from Andrews while he slept, was believed the cause of his act.

Table Gives Relative Size of Turkey Breeds

The following table will give the relative sizes of the breeds of turkeys:

	White Bourbon	Bronze Holland	Reds
Poussins	34	25	30
Adult tom	34	25	30
Yearling tom	34	25	30
Young tom	25	20	20
Hen	20	18	18
Pullet	16	14	14

These are the standard weights and show the White Holland to be the lightest of the three breeds, but we find that there is a great tendency for the White Holland turkeys to run over the standard weight somewhat. Of the three breeds the White ones are considered to be the most domestic and will usually range closer to home than either of the other breeds. The Bourbon Reds would come between the other two breeds in regard to ranging habits.

St. Ignatius' Church Notes (Episcopal)

Kalendar — First Sunday after Epiphany.

10:00 a. m.—Church School.

11:00 a. m.—Matins and Sermon.

Next Sunday begins the Missionary Season of the Church year—Epiphany the Greek word meaning to show forth, to manifest Our Lord to all the world. The Churchman's Kalendar for 1928 with the daily Bible readings and notes are now ready and if you have not received yours ask for it. The Topics are noted for all the Sundays of 1928 and the faithfully followed will make the teaching of the Church more intelligent to him who seeks. The topic for next Sunday is "The Law of Consecration."

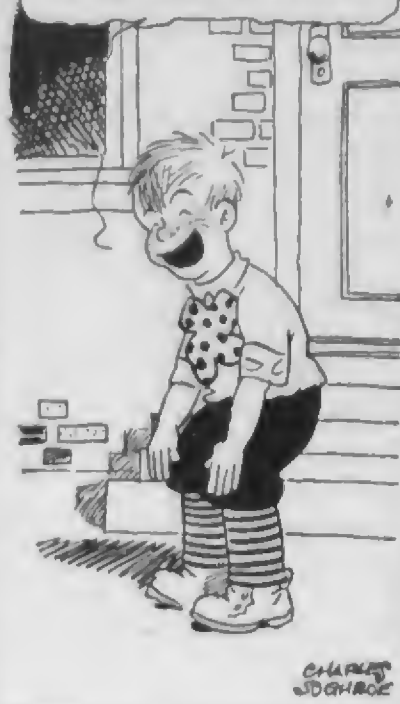

The weekly envelopes will be sent out this week and those who would like to have the opportunity to contribute in a sensible, regular way to the work of St. Ignatius' church may see Mr. William Kelly, treasurer of the Parish. Ordinary things can be so handled that extraordinary results are obtained. The world's greatest systems are built of simple units. The Church offering carton and its contents comprise a single unit in the world's greatest system of Church finance. Pragmatically — which means it works through actual experience. Do you "choose" for yourself a worthy share in the bringing about of the greatest advance the Christian Church has ever made?

Just one word about the new year. Much of the writing and speaking of God's Ministers go in and out quickly but now and again it is needed. Note this fact, always and inwardly digest it. The Church does not give you what you want, but what you need. Second, You are not naturally kind and considerate of others, you are naturally rotten and selfish. Don't fool yourself that you are not. Third, you live here on this earth for awhile and then return to your Maker. What does life mean to you or how will you be prepared for a life hereafter. Fourth, The Christian Church is responsible for all that is really worth while in our daily community life and its civilization. Are you a parasite that reaps what others sow? Why not take an active part yourself?

By decree of the Supreme Court of the United States "We are a Christian Nation." For what are men better than beasts or goats, if knowing God they lift not the hands of prayer? As ever, the Church is a Haven for sinners and a school for saints. Have you found your place?

STATE CAPITOL ITEMS

Rockford has grown more in the last seven years than any other downstate city in Illinois having a population of more than 30,000.

Statistics which were made public recently by the United States Department of Commerce show that Rockford has grown from 25,651 in 1920 to 29,900.

Estimates of all Illinois cities with a population of 30,000 or more are shown in the statistics. The increase since 1920 is based in most cases upon the assumption that the increase in the seven-year span has been at the same ratio as the increase between 1910-1920.

The estimate for Chicago exclusive of outlying towns is 3,102,500, an increase of 401,935. Quincy showed the smallest gain since 1920, with a total increase of 269.

Peoria the largest city in Illinois outside of Chicago, now has a population of 85,500. Springfield, the Capital city, has a population of 66,400.

Governor Len Small has announced that the date for the special session of the assembly to enact new primary election law legislation is January 10. At the time of this announcement it was also revealed that the governor expects to include in the call a request for legislation validating the Chicago bonding power bills. It has been reported that the governor is considering a series of special sessions, on different dates, but all to be called at the same time. In the event he adopts this plan, the primary legislation will be first, the bonding power question second and Chicago traction legislation third, although primary and bonding legislation may be called for one session.

State warrants covering refund of gasoline tax to agriculturists, cleaners, boatmen, etc., are being mailed from the office of Oscar Nelson, state auditor. Refunds range from a few cents to $500.00, and up to December 22, 3,175 reimbursements had been made, aggregating $38,499.85. The amount of motor fuel tax at 2 cents per gallon paid into the state treasury up to that time amounted to $3,806,408.09.

Cattle on feed in Illinois are 25 per cent less in number than a year ago, live stock correspondents of the Illinois and federal departments of agriculture have reported to A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician.

"The scarcity and high prices of feeders and either a shortage or a lack of surplus corn above local farm feed requirements are the chief causes of the slump in feeding this season," Mr. Surratt said.

"There will probably be some improvement in the cattle feeding situation later, but feeding operations in Illinois this winter will be far below those of a year ago. Illinois reports show a much larger proportion of light weight cattle and less middle and heavy weights on feed than last year. The general movement to market will also be later than usual."

Five cents was sliced from the state tax rate for 1927 at the annual meeting of the state tax board held recently. The board, composed of Governor Small, State Auditor Oscar Nelson and State Treasurer Garrett D. Kinney, fixed the rate at 30 cents on the hundred dollar valuation, based on the full assessment as provided for in an act of the last session of the general assembly. This rate is equivalent to 60 cents on the 1926 basis. The rate for 1926 was 65 cents and in 1925 it was 85 cents on the hundred dollar valuation. In reality the reduction is six cents, because a new item of one cent for blind relief was added by the legislature.

The board in its formal report stated that it considered the rates fixed will meet the necessary demands and provide a reasonable working balance, taking into account estimated receipts from other indirect taxes, department earnings, interest and fees.

A recommendation of $563,000 as an appropriation for the deepening of the Illinois river channel from Utica to Crafton, Illinois, has been made by the army engineers. It was announced recently by Representative W. E. Hull, Republican, Illinois. He added that the plan also provided for maintenance.

This sum will be ample for the work for the fiscal year of 1928, Mr. Hull believes, as another sum probably would be set aside in the appropriation measure for the following year. It is expected, he said, that the project, which consists of deepening the channel, removing the lock and other work to improve navigation conditions, will be completed by July 1, 1931.

The state division of highways awarded the contract recently for the construction of a hard road in Macoupin county to the Stocker Grant and Construction company, Highland, for $75,892.08. The road, three miles in length, begins on Route 4 between Galesburg and Bendi and extends almost to Wilcoxville.

In the received for construction work, J. I. Ransome was the apparent low bidder for the construction of 9.39 miles in Shelby county. The bid was $187,974.45. The road, on Route No. 16 extends from a point near Windsor south to Strasburg and almost to Stewardson.

Automobile license tags for 1928 made their appearance in the Capital city a few days ago—white letters on a field of maroon. Distribution became general the day after the appearance of the plates. Two thousand and two hundred and fifty sacks of the tags loaded in two special cars, left Springfield for Chicago on the first day. In addition to the large number consigned car owners in Chicago, which will be distributed by mail carriers, others addressed to various parts of the state will be routed at the Chicago mail terminal to their destination.

Governor Len Small addressed one of the largest road gatherings of the year when he met with road boosters at Carrolton a few days ago. After his address a public hearing was held on two important routes.

Governor Small and members of party drove to Carrolton where they were greeted by delegations from Macoupin, Greene, Montgomery, Jersey and other counties. A delegation from Carlinville arrived on a special train.

The proposed roads to be considered are Route 108, between Kampsville and Litchfield, which will mean the connection of Carlinville and Carrolton by a cement road, and Route No. 109, between Grafton and Route 3. The hearing was conducted by Col. C. R. Miller, director of the state department of public works and buildings, and Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer.

About fifteen hundred teachers and school administrators of Illinois were in attendance at the seventy-fourth annual meeting of the Illinois State Teachers' Association held in the Centennial building at the Capital city recently. Rhys J. Davies, member of British Parliament, was one of the chief speakers on the program.

Mrs. Fannie Spatts Merwin, Mantolito, was nominated for president of the state association at the first general session. In the event Mrs. Merwin is elected she will be the third woman president of the association in its seventy-five years of history. Other women presidents were Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, 1916, and Mrs. Bertha S. Armbruster, 1926.

James Nelson, Cuba, Fulton county, won first place in the spelling contest, conducted by the association.

The Illinois Valley Food Control commission, created by an act of the last session of the state legislature, and appointed by Governor Small, met and organized recently with Senator A. S. Cuthbertson, Dunker Hill, as chairman; Representative H. V. Teel, Rushville, vice chairman, and A. T. Dunn, Beardstown, secretary.

Two state officials, named in the law as ex-officio members of the commission, William Mulvihill of Chicago, state superintendent of waterways, and Stillman J. Stanard, director of agriculture, meeting with the commissioners the governor appointed, extended the aid the state administration could provide in the investigation of flood conditions and prevention.

Public hearings, in which all concerned may offer their opinions and suggestions, likely will form a part of the commission's efforts, in that no information that will be helpful will be lacking in the report it is authorized to complete.

Col. C. R. Miller, director of public works and buildings, and Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer, held a meeting at Chesterfield recently in connection with the location of Bond issue Route No. 111, which extends from Alton to Waverly.

With the receiving of bids for switchboards the department of Purchases and Construction has taken preliminary steps for the installation of two electric chairs at the state penitentiaries at Joliet and Chester provided for under the change in method for infliction of the death penalty.

The law provides for a third chair at the Cook county jail, with the death penalty to be inflicted there in the cases of Cook county murderers. Other executions will be at Joliet and Chester in accordance with which institution counties regularly transfer those convicted. The chair at the Cook county jail is now installed. To date no slayer in Illinois has been sentenced under the provisions of the new law.

Federal appropriation of $20,000,000 over a period of four years beginning in 1925 for the construction of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf channel was urged by members of the committee of the Illinois river division of the Mississippi Valley association at a meeting held in Chicago recently.

Chicago's proposed subway bill may be presented to the special session of the state legislature which is to be called on January 10. Governor Small said a few days ago.

In the Chicago city council can arise on a bill for subways and if the new primary election law is cleared, Governor Small said he could see no reason for objecting to bills being introduced at that time.

Evidence shows the present agricultural situation is not due to lack of productive efficiency on the part of the farmers, nor is there likely to be a letup by Illinois farmers, judging from the importance which will be attached to the business end of farming during the annual Farmers' week at the college of agriculture, University of Illinois; the meet has been scheduled for January 9 to 13.

The present generation is not going to the dogs, according to a survey just conducted by the State Department of Public Welfare. The report shows a decrease in juvenile crime, and a corresponding increase in the average age of inmates received at the penal, reformatory and corrective institutions of the state.

Embracing seven institutions, three of which are penal, one reformatory and three corrective, showing a total of 3,373 received during the fiscal year 1926, the average age of the inmates increased approximately six months over the previous year and approximately one year over the average age is given as 25.09 years, as compared to 24.12 years in 1924, and 24.62 years in 1925.

Started Great Work

On August 20, 1890, congress enacted a law providing for the endowment of colleges of agriculture and mechanics' arts. The money for this was to come from the sale of public lands, and the amount to be expended was $25,000.

RECALLS GOOD OLD DAYS IN NEW YEAR MESSAGE

A gentlemen in Southern Illinois sent the following New Year's greeting to his friends:

THIRTY YEARS AGO, WE MEMBERS—Eggs were 2 dozen for 25 cents; butter 10 cents a pound; milk was 5 cents a quart; the butcher gave away liver and treated the kids with bologna; the hired girl received $2 a week and did the washing. Women did not powder and paint (in public), smoke, vote, play poker or do the black bottom.

Men wore whiskers and boots, chewed tobacco, spit on the sidewalk and cussed. Beer was five cents for all you could drink and the lunch was free. Everybody worked 10 hours a day except saloon keepers, who worked 26. No tips were given to waiters and the hat check graffer was unknown. A kerosene hanging lamp and a stereoscope in the parlor were luxuries.

No one was ever operated on for appendicitis or bought glands. Microbes were unheard of; folks lived to a good old age and every year walked miles to wish their friends a Merry Christmas.

TODAY, you know—Everybody rides in automobiles or flies; plays golf, shoots craps, plays the piano with his feet; goes to the movies nightly; smokes cigarettes; drinks Rukus Juice, blames the H. C. L. on their neighbors, never goes to bed the same day he gets up, and thinks he is having a H—H of a time.

These are the days of suffragettes, profiteering, the rent hogs, excess taxes, home brew, white male and prohibition. If you think life is

NEW RECEIVERS OMIT ALL BATTERIES

Ordinary Lighting Circuits Bring Complete Socket Power to Receivers at a Cost Within Reach of All; Many Improvements in Dry Batteries.

New broadcast receivers which operate in connection with either alternating or direct current supplied by the house lighting mains, thereby dispensing with all batteries, and newly designed sets for dry battery and storage battery operation, were announced by E. E. Bucher, Assistant Vice-President of the Radio Corporation of America, in a statement to the public.

"The Radio Corporation of America long ago discerned a well-defined public demand and preference for radio receivers utilizing lighting current as the source of power to do away with all batteries and the need for their periodical replacement," said Mr. Bucher. "The new receivers therefore now bring complete socket power operated receivers within the reach of every purse and home, and for the millions of homes in communities not yet electrified there is provided the last word in dry battery and storage battery operated sets. They include numerous refinements as well as ingenious combinations in keeping other factor, has made for the increasing stability of radio marketing and the growing confidence of the public.

"Of revolutionary character is the introduction of a new model which is the culmination of years of research in set and tube design aimed to produce, for a moderate price, a receiver completely AC operated with a minimum of operating controls. Simplicity of operation and of maintenance are its main features. It has three stages of radio-frequency amplification, a detector and two stages of audio-frequency amplification. The new AC Radiotrons UX-226 are used in the radio frequency stages and in the first audio frequency stage. The new AC Radiotron UX-227 is used as a detector, and the last audio-frequency stage employs a UX-171 power amplifier Radiotron. The 'B' and 'C' voltages are obtained from a power supply unit built into the set, which employs the new high power rectifier, Radiotron UX-250—full wave rectifier. There are only three controls on this set, one knob for tuning, one for volume control to regulate the output of the receiver and a power with the growing importance of radio in the home; but the sound value of basic research and true engineering is borne out once more in the survival of certain definite fundamentals of radio reception which the Radio Corporation introduced several years ago and which remain unsurpassed," continued Mr. Bucher. "Perhaps the outstanding feature of the new models is in the perfected method of light socket operation which they embody, although total quality has been further improved. Beautiful cabinets with the radio components entirely self-contained yet made readily available by convenient doors, now place Radiolas on a par with the finest of home furnishings."

Superheterodyne Still Standard

The leaders continue to be represented by an 8-tube, loop-operated superheterodyne receiver—a socket-power loudspeaker of surpassing tone and volume, together with complete rectifier supply for the A, B, and C requirements of the Radiola with which it is used in combination. Mr. Bucher's announcement continues: "Either in the form of separate units or incorporated in one cabinet, the best features of this combination have been retained in some of the models introduced. Certain refinements in design have permitted the inclusion of the powerful 104 Loudspeaker in one cabinet with the super-sensitive superheterodyne, with a complete absence of microphonic effects, but which in fact emphasizes its extraordinary tone quality.

"In another model, but likewise characterized by a distinctive cabinet and entirely self-contained equipment, is incorporated the well-known 8 tube superheterodyne receiver with the new 100-A loudspeaker, and operate by socket power.

"The superheterodyne circuit therefore continues as the standard of broadcast perfection after four years in the hands of the critical radio public. This circuit, quite as much as any control switch to turn the power on and off.

"For those who prefer battery operation or whose homes are located in districts not as yet electrified, there is introduced a receiver that will be found to fill the most rigid requirements for sensitivity, selectivity and fine tone quality in its class. This is a new unit-control six-tube receiver employing the well-known and perfected tuned radio-frequency circuit with three stages of radio-frequency amplification, a detector and two stages of audio-frequency, taking five UX-201-A Radiotrons and one UX-112 power amplifier Radiotron. The internal construction of the set is extremely rugged, and with simplicity of operation are the two keynotes of this receiver.

To Continue Rural Sets

"In response to public demand, especially in rural districts, the Radio Corporation of America will continue their five-tube tuned radio-frequency receiver employing regeneration, and which provides unusual sensitivity and selectivity. It uses four UX-199 Radiotrons and a power amplifier Radiotron UX-120, in the last audio stage, giving excellent and undistorted musical reproduction.

"The loudspeaker 104, in addition to the present well-known AC model, is now to be presented in a DC model as well, thus making this superior radio device available in cities and hotels and institutions which are supplied with 110 volt direct current. An ingenious design provides this DC 104 with all the power and tone quality of the tried, tested and perfected AC model.

"As a loudspeaker particularly intended for operation with Radiolas and all other receivers operating on batteries and moderate socket-power, Loudspeaker 100-A is included among the new models. Its enclosed cone is of a design suggestive of a mantle-piece clock, with a screen bezel; the whole finished in dull bronze."

This is an actual photograph of a message received from Commander Byrd's plane, the "America," by the Radio Corporation of America, several hours after she took off for Europe. The signals were received at the Chatham, Massachusetts, station and were strong enough to be placed on their tape recording apparatus. The wavy lines represent the actual radio handwriting of Lt. Norville in the Morse code.

See the New Chevrolet now on display!

Today, Chevrolet presents the crowning triumph of sixteen years' continuous progress—a great new automobile so impressive in appearance, performance and staunchness that it marks the opening of a new era of luxurious transportation at low cost.

Built on a 107-inch wheelbase—4 inches longer than before—the Bigger and Better Chevrolet is impressively large, low and racy. Its new Fisher Bodies are finished in new Duco colors and offer rich new upholstery and handsome appointments. Its improved valve-in-head engine has numerous impressive features such as alloy "invarstrut" pistons, hydro-laminated camshaft gears, mushroom type valve tappets, AC oil filter and AC air cleaner. The chassis also has been redesigned. As a result, the new Chevrolet provides delightful smoothness throughout the entire speed range—a wide margin of power for hills—click-of-the-heel acceleration—the ability to maintain 50, 55 and 60 miles an hour without the slightest sense of forcing or fatigue—the safety of four-wheel brakes—the steering ease that can only result from a ball bearing worm and gear steering mechanism—and comfort over all roads at all speeds due to semi-elliptic shock absorber springs—84% of the wheelbase.

Come in—see the car—and learn how Chevrolet has again electrified America by creating a bigger and better motor car and offering it at prices so low as to be actually amazing!

Lake Geneva Plans For Winter Carnival

The Lake Geneva winter sports program is taking shape and in view of it one of the large hotels that helps establish this city's reputation as a summer resort is staying open.

At a recent meeting there a Lake Geneva winter sports organization was formed, with James Pendergast as general chairman. A season ticket drive opens this week to finance the program which started on New Year's day. There will be horse races, hockey games, skating contests, ice boating and, under favorable conditions, a toboggan slide.

Hockey teams from Milwaukee, Madison, Janesville and Kenosha will be invited. The lake will be illuminated for night skating and boating. The horse racing program is under the auspices of the Lake Geneva driving association.
